

SUBSCRIBE NOW
Get the Magazine

WEB-EXCLUSIVE HOME TOUR

Step Inside a San Francisco Tudor with an
Aesthetic as Cinematic as Its Own Backstory

For a distinctive Presidio Heights mansion with a walled garden, designer Hillary Thomas turns back a century of neglect and falls in love in the process

Posted January 9, 2018

The kitchen dining area, a favorite of the family's beloved Bernese Mountain Dog, Bodhi, features a custom built-in banquette designed by Thomas and antique chairs upholstered in Raoul fabric. The sculpture, Muse—Vanity Working on a Weak Head Produces Every Sort of Mischief (2013) by Nick Hornby, is from Travis Hansson Fine Art. The 2012 paintings over the dining area, Chica Boom #2 and Chica Boom #6 by Gonzalo Fuenmayor, we found at the Dolby Chadwick Gallery. The paintings are flanked by vintage sconces from Urban Electric.

FOLLOW US

CONDÉ NAST

© 2018 Condé Nast. All rights reserved.